

– selection for oilfield production & injection wells

A two-day training course arranged by

The Mining Institute of Scotland

Presenter: Ed Wade CEng, FIMMM.

IoM3 PD endorsement is intended/pending.

Aberdeen Petroleum Club, Kippie Lodge, North
Deeside Road, Milltimber, Aberdeen AB13 0AB.

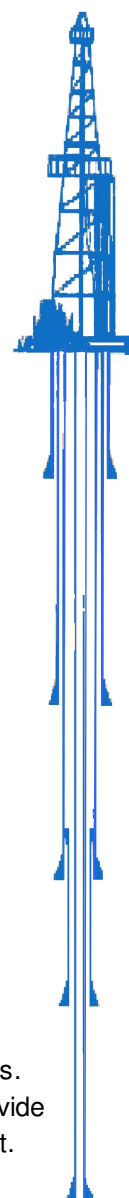

Wednesday 28th, Thursday 29th March 2012

08:45 – 17:00

£725 (+VAT) pp; £670 (+VAT) for MIS/IoM3 members.

The Mining Institute of Scotland is a regional society of the Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining (IoM3) that offers professional qualification (CEng) and CPD to mining and petroleum engineers. www.mining-scotland.org.

A structured approach to selection of casing, tubing and accessory materials will be presented for the different well types. Key topics will be summarised to provide a basis for discussion of practical cases contributed by attendees. Industry standards, etc that support the selection process will be identified. The target audience is petroleum engineers and others involved in the selection and specification of downhole materials. On completion, attendees should understand, and be comfortable managing, the selection process.

OUTLINE

- Selection methodology & criteria
- Overview of tubular metallurgy

Production wells

- Selection for non-corrosive conditions
- Selection for corrosive conditions
- H₂S, sour service & cracking of 'carbon steels'
- Metal-loss corrosion by CO₂ and H₂S
- Managing metal-loss corrosion
- Corrosion resistant alloy (CRA) tubulars
- Accessories

Injection Wells

- Gas injection
- Seawater - deaerated
- Seawater – raw or minimally treated
- Other surface waters
- Produced water
- Aquifer wells
- Mixed waters
- WAG/SWAG
- Dual-purpose (turnaround) wells

Further information & booking arrangements (administered by MetalEcosse Ltd):

Email MX-service@btconnect.com or call 01334 476234. Places will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.

Fees are payable in advance to MetalEcosse Ltd. To obtain the member discount, MIS/IoM3 members should provide their membership reference when booking. Payment arrangements will be advised with booking acknowledgement.

The course fee includes refreshments and lunch. Please advise any special dietary requirements when booking.

Full refunds will be given in the event of cancellation. Otherwise, refunds will be at the organisers' discretion and subject to a cancellation charge. A wait-list will be used to fill places from cancellations. Registered attendees may send a substitute.

The organisers reserve the right to decline booking requests and accept no liability for attendee expenses.

The Mining Institute of Scotland is a private limited company registered in Scotland (number 311798).

MetalEcosse Ltd is a private limited company registered in Scotland (number 164518 & VAT GB 671 0183 57).